

JULES FERRY'S ASSAULT.

A DISOLUTE FELLOW OF INMATE DEPRIVITY.

The Plan of Assassination Concealed Long Ago—Lord Mayor Sullivan Prohibited From Receiving Copies of His Own Papers.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—From information received from Paris to-day it appears that Aubertin, alias Berckheim, the assassin of Mr. Jules Ferry, has long borne the reputation of being a disolute fellow who in inmate depravity rendered him capable of almost any reprehensible act. He has lately lived with a young woman named Granger and it is learned that just previous to his departure from Paris to-day he wrote to her stating his intention of assisting her in the event of his successful accomplishment of his murderous purpose to leave France and take refuge with certain of his friends residing in England, where he would join her. Aubertin maintains a dogged demeanor, refusing to answer questions and manifesting no desire to ask any. His assault upon Mr. Ferry has had the effect to completely open the breach between the radicals and conservatives, which was already partially opened by the assassination of Mr. Ferry. The radicals are extremely bitter against the radicals and ascribe yesterday's scene in the lobby of the chamber to the dupes to the exhibition of venom on the part of the intransigents and the cris de peuple, which has gradually increased the passions of the radicals. It is believed that the persons have been transferred from the barracks to the prison, where they will be held until the new government should get a good start, it is hopelessly disintegrated, and the chances are that more serious trouble will have to be met.

The authorities of Tullahoma have prohibited the delivery to Lord Mayor Sullivan of the papers which he has written, which papers have been sent to the prison for him, and their action is undoubtedly in pursuance of instructions from the military authorities. The assassination of Mr. Ferry has had the effect to completely open the breach between the radicals and conservatives, which was already partially opened by the assassination of Mr. Ferry. The radicals are extremely bitter against the radicals and ascribe yesterday's scene in the lobby of the chamber to the dupes to the exhibition of venom on the part of the intransigents and the cris de peuple, which has gradually increased the passions of the radicals. It is believed that the persons have been transferred from the barracks to the prison, where they will be held until the new government should get a good start, it is hopelessly disintegrated, and the chances are that more serious trouble will have to be met.

Rev. Charles A. Berry has declined the call of the Synod of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Maryland to become a member of the Synod.

Brassfield will notify the parliament to move a committee to inquire into the charge that he sent a cable to a fair trade meeting in 1885.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—Reliable advices received here from Friedrichshagen say that Prince Bismarck was seized with a sudden illness on the 10th inst. and that he passed off, but his physician advised rest and abstention from business.

Prince Bismarck is suffering from indigestion and is unable to take food. His physician has advised rest and abstention from business.

The recent medical examinations of the crown prince's throat show he is progressing favorably toward recovery. The prince's condition is such that he is able to take food and is able to attend to his duties.

Senator William was slightly unwell to-day, and was unable to appear at the annual session of the Senate. He is expected to be able to attend to his duties tomorrow.

NO PRISONER CAPTURED YET.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—M. Fallieres to-day informed President Carnot that he had received information from a cabinet on a basis of a concentration of Republican groups, and that he had decided to take action.

M. Ferry is feverish to-day, and it is feared that he will not be able to attend to his duties. He is expected to be able to attend to his duties tomorrow.

Aubertin, when examined by the "Juge d'Instruction," with regard to his anti-revolutionary views, said he was sorry he had not killed Mr. Ferry, and expressed the hope that he would be able to do so.

Aubertin, the would-be assassin of Mr. Ferry, is the author of various pamphlets and the inventor of several machines, the chief of which is a machine for the production of steam.

At midnight the condition of Mr. Ferry was less favorable than it had been through the day. He is expected to be able to attend to his duties tomorrow.

The physicians' bulletin announces that the wounds of Mr. Ferry have developed a serious condition, and that he is expected to be able to attend to his duties tomorrow.

DECLINED THE CALL.

Rev. Charles A. Berry Will Not Accept the Plymouth Pastorate.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—At Plymouth church this morning Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott declined the call of the congregation to become the pastor of the church.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The annual session of the Grand Lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, opened at Masonic Hall to-day. Exalted Grand Royal Elks of the city, Charles A. Berry, of Wolverhampton, England, had declined the call to the pastorate. The announcement was an unforeseen blow, and many of the ladies gave way to their feelings in tears.

GRAND LODGE OF ELKS.

Investigating the Question of Making the Grand Lodge Movable.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The annual session of the Grand Lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, opened at Masonic Hall to-day. Exalted Grand Royal Elks of the city, Charles A. Berry, of Wolverhampton, England, had declined the call to the pastorate. The announcement was an unforeseen blow, and many of the ladies gave way to their feelings in tears.

Calumet and Hecla Agitate Opened.

MAINE, Dec. 11.—The Calumet and Hecla mine, where it caved in, is now practically closed again. The main engine is probably totally destroyed. The mine is expected to be able to attend to his duties tomorrow.

PRICE WANTS THE DEMOCRATS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—The State Democratic Union has decided to appoint a special committee to go to Washington and endeavor to obtain the support of prominent Democrats in the city. The committee will be composed of Mr. Price, of the Union, and Mr. Price, of the Union.

SOME B &amp; O HISTORY.

Discovered by the Resignation of Vice President King.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 11.—The letter of resignation of Second Vice President Thos. M. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published. Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

During the past three years Mr. King has assisted in negotiating loans aggregating $10,000,000. Then comes the following paragraph:

"It is proper for me to here refer to harsh and unfavorable criticism which has been made of my administration of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. As an individual, and nearly all the time, I have been subjected to a great deal of criticism. I have been subjected to a great deal of criticism. I have been subjected to a great deal of criticism.

The only subsequent negotiations I have had in connection with the financial affairs of the company have been in connection with the large sum of money was raised by me in New York and Pittsburgh to-day over a $10,000,000 loan.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

Mr. King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was given out to-night. Mr. King resigns because he is advised that "harmonious relations cannot exist if he continues to hold his position. The letter then gives a history of Mr. King's connection with the road and makes public many things associated with the company's embarrassments not heretofore published.

RELIGIOUS RECONSTRUCTION.

AN EXPOSITION BY REV. DR. SAVAGE, OF BOSTON.

Education, Not Redemption, Is the Need of the Hour—Rev. Dr. Newman's Sermon on God's Portraits of Himself—Man's Ruin of His Own Soul.

The announcement that the Rev. M. J. Savage, of Boston, was to occupy the pulpit of All Souls' Church yesterday morning filled the church to overflowing. Dr. Savage said that at home he was engaged in a series of sermons under the general title of "Religious Reconstruction." The plan being to discuss the great religious theological questions of the world as they had been held in the churches and as they still were represented in the creeds, and present them plainly and fairly to the view of modern thought.

Dr. Savage said: I will take as my scriptural starting point the text to be found in Romans, viii, 20: "For we know that the whole creation groans and travaileth in pain together until now."

"The impression of the general truth that we shall all admit, whatever be our theory as to the explanation of it, for we know that the whole creation groans and travaileth in pain together until now."

According to the popular theory, which has prevailed for more than two thousand years, the explanation of this condition of the world is to be found in the fall of man. Man is supposed to be in a condition of ruin caused by a voluntary rebellion against the Lord God, the creator of heaven and earth, and at the foundation of this scheme of things lies this theory of the fall of man.

Mr. Moore, in one of his sermons, uttered the following words: "Morality does not touch the question of salvation. It is a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

The decline of the original religion, the original religion, has been a question of the soul, and the soul is not a thing that can be saved by the law."

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD.

Approaching Weddings—The Dinner Given by Mr. Chamberlain.

Mr. Martin N. Evans, of the government printing office, will be married Tuesday evening, in Philadelphia, to Miss Carrie Levy, of that city.

Miss Grace Matthews, daughter of Justice Stanley Matthews, will spend the winter with her brother, Mr. Webb Matthews, at Princeton, N. J., where he is at college.

Mrs. Foster will be at a tea on Thursday to meet Mrs. Mariscal de Mon, of Mexico, who is north with her husband on their bridal tour.

Mrs. Cleveland is again alone in the white house, so far as lady guests are concerned. Her husband is at the college.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

Mr. Chamberlain will give a reception Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding.

ANSWERING THE ALLIANCE.

REV. DR. CHAPPELLE'S SERMON ON THE LOYALTY OF CATHOLICS.

They are Loyal to Our Government, Staunch Supporters of the Constitution, and Enthusiastic Lovers of Their Country.

The utterances of some of the speakers at the Evangelical Alliance and the subsequent discussion on matters relative to the Roman Catholic Church induced Rev. Dr. P. L. Chappelle to answer those statements in so far as they impinged the loyalty and patriotism of the Catholic people.

The knowledge that such a sermon was to be preached attracted a very large congregation at St. Matthew's Church yesterday.

The congregation was not composed exclusively of persons of the Roman Catholic faith, many of the Protestants of various denominations were present to hear what the leading Roman Catholic clergyman of Washington would say in reply. His text and discourse are as follows:

"In the midst of you standeth one whom ye know not—John, 1, 9.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

Among men there standeth a society yesterday, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance, and the society is that of the Evangelical Alliance.

A CONGRESSIONAL FORECAST.

PROBABILITIES IN BOTH BRANCHES OF THE NATIONAL LEGISLATURE.

No Work of Any Importance Anticipated During This Week—Work for the Committee on Rules—A Possible Investigation in the House.

Only routine work of minor importance is likely to be done in Congress this week. When the House convenes at noon to-day some more propositions on the subject of rules are expected, as almost every member has his suggestion in this line, but no actual business can be done. Speaker Carlisle, in his suggestion, will announce the standing committee on rules, and the House will adjourn over to about Thursday, to give the committee an opportunity to take into consideration the multitude of suggestions there have already been made on the subject of the present rules of the committee in the last Congress consisted of the Speaker and Messrs. Randall, Morrill, Reed, and Hilecock. As Messrs. Morrill and Hilecock—a Democrat and a Republican—have dropped out of the House, at least two new members will be named to the committee. Mr. Mills, of Texas, will in all probability be chosen to succeed Mr. Morrill, and either Mr. Browne, of Indiana, or Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, will, it is thought, succeed Mr. Hilecock.